HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

1. Budget Resolution

H. Con. Res. 11 · February 3, 2021
Position Good for working people
Outcome Passed YEAs 218 NAYs 212
This bill allowed Congress to pass critical COVID-19 relief with a simple majority vote and avoid a filibuster in the Senate. It helped the nation respond to the public health and economic emergency presented by the COVID-19 pandemic. This bill passed the House on Feb. 3, 2021.

2. Apprenticeship Act

H.R. 447 · February 5, 2021
Position Good for working people
Outcome Passed YEAs 247 NAYs 173
H.R. 447 would modernize the Registered Apprenticeship Program by authorizing significant new funding to expand registered apprenticeships, pre-apprenticeships and youth apprenticeships in the United States. It also would codify and streamline existing standards that are vital to support apprentices, including youth apprenticeship and pre-apprenticeship programs. It also would bolster the role of the Office of Apprenticeship at the Department of Labor and provide funding streams to ensure oversight and technical assistance. The bill would support more than 1 million Registered Apprenticeship opportunities over the next five years. Finally, it would ensure that experts from industry and labor have a role in improving the program. This bill passed the House on Feb. 5, 2021.

3. Equality Act

H.R. 5 · February 25, 2021
Position Good for working people
Outcome Passed YEAs 224 NAYs 206
This legislation protects Americans from discrimination on the basis of sex, sexual orientation or gender identity while seeking housing, applying for credit and pursuing an education, and in other key pathways to the American dream. While the Title VII Supreme Court decision barred job discrimination, the Equality Act would codify that ruling. LGBTQ people deserve to be free from discrimination in all forms. This bill passed the House on Feb. 25, 2021.

4. American Rescue Plan

H.R. 1319 · February 27, 2021
Position Good for working people
Outcome Passed YEAs 219 NAYs 212
This bill provided $1.9 trillion in emergency assistance to the American people during the unprecedented COVID-19 crisis. The American Rescue Plan stabilized state and local governments, helped reopen public schools safely, funded distribution of the new COVID-19 vaccine and related supplies, and supported transportation systems. Importantly, the bill also provided relief for multiemployer pension plans, fully subsidized COBRA health insurance for laid-off workers and continued unemployment insurance benefits, including for workers not normally covered under state programs, such as gig workers and independent contractors. This bill passed the House on Feb. 27, 2021.

5. George Floyd Justice in Policing Act

	H.R. 1280 · March 3, 2021
Position	Good for working people
Outcome	Passed YEAs 220 NAYs 212
	After George Floyd was murdered by a Minneapolis police officer, the labor movement demanded more accountability from law enforcement. Though not perfect, this bill would reform policing by banning chokeholds, expanding use of body cameras, ending racial profiling, demilitarizing our police forces and ending no-knock warrants. This bill passed the House on March 3, 2021.

6. For the People Act

	H.R. 1 · March 3, 2021
Position	Good for working people
Outcome	Passed YEAs 220 NAYs 210
	For years, some of the rich and powerful have tried to make it harder to register and vote. This legislation gives voters tools to defeat those seeking to gain power through intimidation, coercion and voter suppression. It would create standards to protect the vote by promoting early voting and same-day and online registration. It establishes a public financing system powered by small donations and requires super PACs to make their donors public. Finally, it would restore voting rights for formerly incarcerated individuals and commit Congress to restoring the Voting Rights Act to end racial discrimination in voting. This bill passed the House on March 3, 2021.

7. Protecting the Right to Organize (PRO) Act

	H.R. 842 · March 9, 2021
Position	Good for working people
Outcome	Passed YEAs 225 NAYs 206
	The Protecting the Right to Organize (PRO) Act is landmark worker empowerment, civil rights and economic stimulus legislation. It would hold employers accountable when they violate workers' rights and ensure that most workers are protected under the National Labor Relations Act. It would also protect collective action and strengthen employees' bargaining rights so they can negotiate for higher wages, better benefits, a safer workplace and a more secure retirement. Finally, the bill would modernize the union election and enforcement process to protect against years of systematic corporate attempts to weaken elections. This bill passed the House on March 9, 2021.

8. Equal Rights Amendment (ERA)

	H.J. Res. 17 · March 17, 2021
Position	Good for working people
Outcome	Passed YEAs 222 NAYs 204
	Thirty-eight states have passed an Equal Rights Amendment to the Constitution stating that women have equal rights. This satisfies the requirement that three-fourths of states must vote in favor of the amendment. However, there is an additional congressionally imposed deadline that this bill would remove in order to allow for the amendment's passage. This bill passed the House on March 17, 2021.

9. Violence Against Women Act

	H.R. 1620 · March 17, 2021
Position	Good for working people
Outcome	Passed YEAs 244 NAYs 172
	The reauthorization of the 1994-enacted Violence Against Women Act (VAWA) would provide domestic abuse survivors with health care and other social services and improve access to critical resources such as housing. This new version of VAWA would also expand assistance to the LGBTQ community and underserved communities of color. This bill passed the House on March 17, 2021.

10. DREAM Act

	H.R. 6 · March 18, 2021
Position	Good for working people
Outcome	Passed YEAs 228 NAYs 197
	This legislation would benefit all workers by providing a well-earned path to citizenship for immigrant workers who have been making positive contributions to society for decades. Recipients of TPS (Temporary Protected Status), DACA (Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals) and DED (Deferred Enforced Departure) help to build, feed, serve, educate and care for our nation. This bill passed the House on March 18, 2021.

11. Paycheck Fairness Act

	H.R. 7 · April 15, 2021
Position	Good for working people
Outcome	Passed YEAs 217 NAYs 210
	The Paycheck Fairness Act would update the Equal Pay Act. Although the 1963 law made it illegal for employers to pay unequal wages to male and female employees for the same work, wage disparities persist in both the private and public sectors, at every educational level, across the country. This bill would require employers to demonstrate that wage gaps truly result from factors unrelated to gender and prohibit retaliation against workers who discuss their pay with co-workers. It also would bring remedies and class-action procedures into conformance with those available for other civil rights claims, and strengthen the government's ability to identify and remedy discrimination by requiring employers to report pay data to the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission. This bill passed the House on April 15, 2021.

12. Workplace Violence in Health Care

	H.R. 1195 · April 16, 2021
Position	Good for working people
Outcome	Passed YEAs 254 NAYs 166
	Workplace violence is a serious and growing safety and health problem that has reached epidemic levels—it is now the third-leading cause of job deaths and responsible for more than 30,000 serious lost-time injuries each year. Nurses, medical assistants, emergency responders and social workers suffer 72% of all workplace assaults. Women workers are at particular risk, suffering 2 out of every 3 serious workplace violence injuries. This legislation would create a workplace violence prevention standard to protect workers in health care and social services from injury and death. This bill passed the House on April 16, 2021.

13. NO BAN Act

	H.R. 1333 · April 21, 2021
Position	Good for working people
Outcome	Passed YEAs 218 NAYs 208
	The National Origin-Based Antidiscrimination for Nonimmigrants (NO BAN) Act would repeal the previous administration's efforts to ban Muslims, Africans, refugees and asylum seekers, and make necessary reforms to restore checks and balances and prevent future discriminatory bans. This bill passed the House on April 12, 2021.

14. Washington, D.C. Admission Act

	H.R. 51 · April 22, 2021
Position	Good for working people
Outcome	Passed YEAs 216 NAYs 208
	This bill would grant statehood to the District of Columbia, making it the 51st state. Although Washington, D.C.'s population is now greater than both Vermont and Wyoming, its residents are without a constitutional right to voting representation in Congress. This bill passed the House on April 22, 2021.

15. Pregnant Workers Fairness Act

	H.R. 1065 · May 14, 2021
Position	Good for working people
Outcome	Passed YEAs 315 NAYs 101
	This legislation would close gaps in current law, creating a clear nationwide standard for reasonable workplace accommodations for pregnant workers so they are not pushed out of the workforce. It would promote workplace gender equity, healthy pregnancies and the economic security of pregnant and parenting workers and their families. This bill passed the House on May 14, 2021.

16. Older Workers Discrimination Act

	H.R. 2062 · June 23, 2021
Position	Good for working people
Outcome	Passed YEAs 247 NAYs 178
	This bill would restore fairness to workers age 40 and older who experience discrimination in the workplace because of their age. It would restore protections that were weakened by the Supreme Court, which raised the burden of proof to show age discrimination. The bill also would provide remedies for workers who are retaliated against when they report age discrimination. This bill passed the House on June 23, 2021

17. INVEST in America Act

	H.R. 3684 · July 1, 2021
Position	Good for working people
Outcome	Passed YEAs 221 NAYs 201
	This bill would make significant investments in American infrastructure through surface transportation, rail and transit systems, electric vehicle charging stations, aviation, energy production and distribution, schools, broadband, drinking water and wastewater infrastructure, and housing. It would help us meet the demands of a 21st-century economy. The $715 billion bill would create millions of good jobs, increase long-term growth and make us more globally competitive, while protecting our environment and improving our health. This bill passed the House on July 1, 2021.

18. Labor, Health and Human Services, and Education Appropriations

	H.R. 4502 · July 29, 2021
Position	Good for working people
Outcome	Passed YEAs 219 NAYs 208
	The fiscal year 2022 appropriations bill combined funding measures for numerous federal agencies, including the departments of Labor, Health and Human Services, and Education. It increased funding for these key domestic agencies by an average of 28% and reversed the long-standing underinvestment in worker protection programs and critical public services. This bill passed the House on July 29, 2021.

19. John R. Lewis Voting Rights Advancement Act of 2021

	H.R. 4 · August 24, 2021
Position	Good for working people
Outcome	Passed YEAs 219 NAYs 212
	This bipartisan legislation helps protect our nation's citizens from discriminatory voting practices and restores the ability to mount effective legal challenges to anti-democratic voting measures. Passage would be an important step toward restoration of the fundamental voter protections undermined by the Supreme Court's 2013 Shelby County v. Holder decision and its 2021 decision in Brnovich v. Democratic National Committee. This bill passed the House on Aug. 24, 2021.

SENATE

1. Nomination of Janet Yellen for Secretary of the Treasury

	January 25, 2021
Position	Good for working people
Outcome	Passed YEAs 84 NAYs 15
	The AFL-CIO supported the confirmation of Janet Yellen to serve as secretary of the Department of the Treasury. President Biden made history by nominating former Federal Reserve Board Chair Yellen to be the first female treasury secretary. As chair of the Federal Reserve, Yellen’s decisions prioritized jobs and wages for all working people, including communities of color long ignored by economic policymakers. The Senate confirmed Yellen’s nomination on Jan. 25, 2021.

	February 2, 2021
Position	Good for working people
Outcome	Passed YEAs 86 NAYs 13
	The AFL-CIO supported the confirmation of Pete Buttigieg to serve as secretary of the Department of Transportation. Buttigieg has committed to supporting workers while improving our nation’s outdated infrastructure that has gone unaddressed for far too long. He is focused on promoting union jobs, increasing workers’ economic power and ensuring safe working conditions. He fully recognizes the importance of safety for both travelers and workers—a critical issue for the nation during the pandemic. The Senate confirmed Buttigieg’s nomination on Feb. 2, 2021.

	February 2, 2021
Position	Good for working people
Outcome	Passed YEAs 56 NAYs 43
	The AFL-CIO supported the confirmation of Alejandro Mayorkas to serve as secretary of the Department of Homeland Security (DHS). Mayorkas has a record of public service and understands that real security can only be achieved by respecting fundamental human and labor rights. As DHS secretary, Mayorkas oversees a wide range of functions vital to union efforts to ensure workers’ rights and lift labor standards, including worksite immigration enforcement, work authorization, work visa programs and work permits. The department also makes determinations on relief programs and reviews worker applications for citizenship, DACA, TPS and other types of immigrant and nonimmigrant status. The secretary has an important role in ensuring adequate attention to these functions and preventing immigration enforcement from being used as a weapon against worker organizing. The Senate confirmed Mayorkas’ nomination on Feb. 2, 2021.

5. Nomination of Jennifer Granholm for Secretary of Energy

February 25, 2021
Position Good for working people
Outcome Passed YEAs 64 NAYs 35
The AFL-CIO supported the confirmation of former Michigan Gov. Jennifer Granholm to serve as secretary of the Department of Energy. She brings to the department a demonstrated commitment to rebuilding American manufacturing and creating good union jobs. As head of a department that oversees hundreds of billions of dollars in legacy, traditional and future energy programs, assets and innovation, she is well suited to helping to ensure that today and tomorrow's energy supply chains are built in America, that America leads in clean energy and advanced industrial innovation and production, and that environmental progress goes hand in hand with the retention and creation of good union jobs. The Senate confirmed Granholm's nomination on Feb. 25, 2021.

6. Nomination of Miguel Cardona for Secretary of Education

March 1, 2021
Position Good for working people
Outcome Passed YEAs 64 NAYs 33
The AFL-CIO supported the confirmation of Miguel Cardona to serve as secretary of the Department of Education. Cardona's nomination represents a sorely needed transition away from the anti-education values and record of former Education Secretary Betsy DeVos. After four long years of this billionaire lobbyist undermining our public education system at the expense of students and teachers, Cardona ushers in a new perspective as both a former public school teacher and a member of the American Federation of Teachers (AFT). The Senate confirmed Cardona's nomination on March 1, 2021.

123 · March 17, 2021
Position Good for working people
Outcome Passed YEAs 98 NAYs 0

The AFL-CIO supported the confirmation of Katherine Tai to serve as U.S. trade representative (USTR). While chief trade counsel for the House Ways and Means Committee, Tai worked for stronger and better enforcement of our trade laws and remedies. The AFL-CIO was proud to partner with her to craft the North American Free Trade Agreement's long-overdue replacement, the United States-Mexico-Canada Agreement. Under Tai, the USTR is poised to develop a forward-looking, pro-worker trade agenda that includes even stronger enforcement and labor protections for American workers and their counterparts across borders. The Senate confirmed Tai's nomination on March 17, 2021.

March 22, 2021
Position Good for working people
Outcome Passed YEAs 68 NAYs 29

The AFL-CIO supported the confirmation of Boston Mayor Marty Walsh to serve as secretary of the Department of Labor. A LIUNA member who rose to become president of the Boston Building Trades Council, Walsh is the first union member to serve as labor secretary in more than 40 years. As mayor, he was a leader in the fight to raise the state minimum wage to $15 an hour, while at the same time creating 135,000 new jobs. Most importantly, Walsh knows firsthand that collective bargaining is essential to building a stronger economy, combating inequality, beating back COVID-19 and expanding opportunities for women, immigrants and people of color. Position	Good for working people
Outcome	Passed YEAs 50 NAYs 47
	The AFL-CIO supported the confirmation of Julie Su to serve as deputy secretary of the Department of Labor. Su is a stellar nominee who has devoted her career to advancing labor rights, workplace protections and employment opportunities for all. As labor secretary of California, the world's fifth-largest economy, Su enacted a sweeping pro-worker agenda that is a progressive model for every other state. From her work to prevent wage theft to her record of holding Big Tech accountable, Su has shown she is ready to meet this moment and fight for working people across the nation. The Senate confirmed Su's nomination on July 13, 2021.

19. Nomination of Gwynne Wilcox to the National Labor Relations Board

	July 28, 2021
Position	Good for working people
Outcome	Passed YEAs 52 NAYs 47
	The AFL-CIO supported the confirmation of Gwynne Wilcox to serve on the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB). Wilcox will be the first Black woman on the NLRB in the agency's 85-year history, and she brings to the board extensive knowledge of both the long-standing and emerging issues facing workers who seek protection under the National Labor Relations Act. The Senate confirmed Wilcox's nomination on July 28, 2021.

21. Infrastructure Investment and Jobs Act

	H.R. 3684 · August 10, 2021
Position	Good for working people
Outcome	Passed YEAs 69 NAYs 30
	After decades of delay and infrastructure decline, the House passed a bipartisan infrastructure bill. Centered around the creation of good union jobs, the bill provides for a $1 trillion investment in roads, bridges, transit, rail, climate change mitigation, electric vehicles, clean drinking water, high-speed internet, resilient transmission lines and more. The bill also includes labor standards guaranteeing that the jobs created have family-supporting wages, as well as "buy America" provisions that will bolster U.S. manufacturing. This bill passed the Senate on Aug. 10, 2021.

22. For the People Act of 2021

S. 1 · August 11, 2021
Position Good for working people
Outcome Passed YEAs 50 NAYs 49
For years, some of the rich and powerful have tried to make it harder to register and vote. This legislation gives voters tools to defeat those seeking to gain power through intimidation, coercion and voter suppression. It would create standards to protect the vote by promoting early voting and same-day and online registration. It establishes a public financing system powered by small donations and requires super PACs to make their donors public. Finally, it would restore voting rights for formerly incarcerated individuals and commit Congress to restoring the Voting Rights Act to end racial discrimination in voting.

23. Nomination of Doug Parker for Assistant Secretary of Labor

October 25, 2021
Position Good for working people
Outcome Passed YEAs 50 NAYs 41
The AFL-CIO supported the confirmation of Doug Parker to serve as assistant secretary for the Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) in the Department of Labor. Parker is the ideal candidate to lead OSHA, the agency charged with enforcing federal statutes that aim to ensure worker safety and health. Parker's years of experience advocating for and protecting workers make him uniquely qualified to lead this agency and ensure that it enforces standards for new and emerging hazards and reaches targeted populations who are particularly vulnerable to dangerous working conditions. The Senate confirmed Parker's nomination on Oct. 25, 2021.

24. John R. Lewis Voting Rights Advancement Act of 2021

S. 4 · November 3, 2021
Position Good for working people
Outcome Failed YEAs 50 NAYs 49
This bipartisan legislation helps protect our nation's citizens from discriminatory voting practices and restores the ability to mount effective legal challenges to anti-democratic voting measures. Passage would be an important step toward restoration of the fundamental voter protections undermined by the Supreme Court's 2013 Shelby County v. Holder decision and its 2021 decision in Brnovich v. Democratic National Committee. The Senate blocked this legislation on November 3, 2021.
