1. Further Additional Continuing Appropriations Act, 2019

H.J. Res. 28 · January 23, 2019
Position Good for working people
Outcome Passed YEAs 229 NAYs 184
The passage of this continuing resolution provides appropriations to several federal agencies and was the first step to reopen the federal government, which was in its thirty-third day of a mindless shutdown. More than 380,000 federal employees and countless federal government contractors were locked out of their jobs, and another 420,000 have been required to report to work—all of them denied a paycheck due to the shutdown. Furthermore, millions continue to lose the vital government services that we all deserve and pay for. This continuing resolution passed on Jan. 23, 2019, and became law on Jan. 25, 2019.

2. For the People Act of 2019

H.R. 1 · March 8, 2019
Position Good for working people
Outcome Passed YEAs 234 NAYs 193
This legislation includes many of the most important reforms necessary to restore the promise of our democracy, including expanding access to the ballot box, reducing the influence of big money in politics and strengthening ethics rules for public servants. This bill passed the House on March 8, 2019.

3. Paycheck Fairness Act

H.R. 7 · March 27, 2019
Position Good for working people
Outcome Passed YEAs 242 NAYs 187
The Paycheck Fairness Act provides targeted remedies designed to update the 1963 Equal Pay Act. It requires employers to demonstrate that wage gaps between men and women doing the same work truly result from factors unrelated to gender. It prohibits employers' use of prior salary history in setting pay for new hires and employer retaliation against workers who discuss their pay with coworkers. Last, H.R. 7 brings Equal Pay Act remedies and class action procedures into conformance with those available for other civil rights claims, and strengthens the government's ability to identify and remedy systematic wage discrimination by requiring employers to report pay data to the EEOC. The bill passed the House on March 27, 2019.

4. Equality Act

H.R. 5 · May 17, 2019
Position Good for working people
Outcome Passed YEAs 236 NAYs 173
This bill defines and includes sex, sexual orientation and gender identity among the prohibited categories of discrimination or segregation, expands the definition of public accommodations and allows the Department of Justice to intervene in equal protection actions on account of sexual orientation or gender identity. This bill passed the House on May 17, 2019.

5. American Dream and Promise Act of 2019

	H.R. 6 · June 4, 2019
Position	Good for working people
Outcome	Passed YEAs 237 NAYs 187
	The Dream and American Promise Act of 2019 (H.R. 6) provides a well-earned path to citizenship for working people who have made positive contributions to society for decades. Recipients of TPS (Temporary Protected Status), DACA (Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals) and DED (Deferred Enforced Departure) help to build, feed, serve, educate and care for our nation and this legislation takes a necessary step forward by extending permanent protections to these valued members of our families, communities and unions. This bill passed the House on June 4, 2019.

6. Amendment to Divert Funds from Registered Apprenticeship Programs

	H.Amdt. 302 to H.R. 2740 · June 12, 2019
Position	Bad for working people
Outcome	Failed YEAs 158 NAYs 266
	This amendment introduced by French Hill (R-Ark.) to the Labor HHS appropriations bill would have allowed grant funds for apprenticeships to be used for apprenticeship programs not registered with the U.S. Department of Labor. The amendment failed on June 13, 2019, and the Labor HHS Appropriations Act passed the House on June 19, 2019.

7. Department of Labor, Health and Human Services, Education, and Related Agencies Appropriations Act, 2020

	H.R. 2740 · June 19, 2019
Position	Good for working people
Outcome	Passed YEAs 226 NAYs 203
	The FY 2020 appropriations bill for the Department of Labor, Health and Human Services, Education, and Related Agencies (Labor HHS) provides a long awaited boost to labor programs that have been level-funded for years. The bill recognizes the importance in investing in workers, worker protections, health and education, and rejects many of the proposed cuts called for in the administration's budget proposal. Specifically, the bill provides a total of $13 billion in funding for the Department of Labor, includes an increase of $8.5 billion for the Department of Health and Human Services and a $4.4 billion increase for the Department of Education. It contains a $67 million increase in funding for the National Labor Relations Board, and provides an advance appropriation of $495 million for the Corporation for Public Broadcasting (CPB). This increase in funding recognizes that the CPB, along with the National Endowment for the Arts and the National Endowment for the Humanities, bolsters the economy and ensures that all Americans have access to artistic and education content. The appropriations bill passed the House on June 19, 2019.

9. Middle Class Health Benefits Tax Repeal Act

H.R. 748 · July 17, 2019

Position Good for working people

Outcome Passed YEAs 419 NAYs 6

This bill eliminates a painful tax that takes money out of the pockets of hardworking men and women while hollowing out the quality health care plans they've earned. This "Cadillac tax" was ill-conceived from the beginning, putting an undue burden on 181 million American workers who earn their health benefits on the job, making medical care less affordable and creating serious access barriers for millions of workers. The bill passed the House on July 12, 2019.

10. Raise the Wage Act

H.R. 582 · July 18, 2019

Position Good for working people

Outcome Passed YEAs 231 NAYs 199

This legislation would gradually raise the federal minimum wage to $15 an hour by the year 2024. In addition to indexing future increases to the growth in the median wage, the bill would gradually eliminate the subminimum wage for tipped workers, which has been stuck at $2.13 since 1991. The bill passed the House on July 18, 2019.

11. Rehabilitation for Multiemployer Pensions Act of 2019

H.R. 397 · July 24, 2019

Position Good for working people

Outcome Passed YEAs 264 NAYs 169

This legislation is a step toward addressing our nation's looming pension crisis. Absent federal action, the retirement income security of over one million American workers, retirees, and their spouses across the country will be in jeopardy because of the impending failure of their multiemployer pension plans. By establishing a federal loan program for troubled plans meeting certain criteria, this bill reflects the fact that allowing these plans to fail will have a devastating impact not only on individual retirees and their families, but also on their communities and their employers. The bill passed the House on July 18, 2019.

13. Forced Arbitration Injustice Repeal Act

H.R. 1423 · September 20, 2019

Position Good for working people

Outcome Passed YEAs 225 NAYs 186

The FAIR Act would address the widespread use of abusive and often hidden contract provisions in consumer, employment and other agreements that force workers and consumers to settle their disputes against companies in a private system of arbitration that stacks the deck against individuals. The bill passed the House on Sept. 20, 2019.

16. United States Export Finance Agency Act of 2019

H.R. 4863 · November 15, 2019

Position Good for working people

Outcome Passed YEAs 235 NAYs 184

A healthy Export-Import Bank (Ex-Im Bank) is pivotal to the creation and sustainability of U.S. jobs in manufacturing, as well as increasing U.S. exports, thereby improving the balance of trade between the U.S. and high export countries. This legislation reauthorizes the Export-Import Bank for the next ten years and would gradually increase the bank's lending authority by $40 billion, resulting in an expansion of projects. Although the bill would rename the Export-Import Bank as the "United States Export Finance Agency," its intended mission "to assist in financing the export of U.S. goods and services" would remain unchanged. The legislation also includes provisions that reform the Bank's quorum rules that have severely limited the Bank's viability in recent years. This bill passed the House on Nov. 15, 2019.

17. Workplace Violence Prevention for Health Care and Social Service Workers Act

H.R. 1309 · November 21, 2019

Position Good for working people

Outcome Passed YEAs 251 NAYs 158

The Workplace Violence Prevention for Health Care and Social Services Workers Act would direct the Occupational Safety and Health Administration to issue a federal workplace violence prevention standard to protect workers in health care and social services from injury and death. Workplace violence is a serious and growing safety and health problem that has reached epidemic levels. Workplace violence is now the third leading cause of job deaths, and results in more than 30,000 serious lost-time injuries each year. Nurses, medical assistants, emergency responders and social workers face some of the greatest threats, suffering more than 70% of all workplace assaults. Women workers particularly are at risk, suffering two out of every three serious workplace violence injuries. This bill would help protect these workers by requiring employers in the health care and social service sectors to develop and implement a workplace violence prevention plan, tailored to specific workplace and employee populations. This bill passed the House on Nov. 21, 2019.

18. Elijah E. Cummings Lower Drug Costs Now Act

H.R. 3 · December 12, 2019

Position Good for working people

Outcome Passed YEAs 230 NAYs 192

The Lower Drug Prices Now Act takes bold action to address the relentless rise in drug prices. It establishes a fair drug price negotiation program to reduce the cost of expensive medications that lack adequate competition in the marketplace. It requires drug corporations to cap annual drug price increases to the rate of inflation or face penalty payments to the Medicare program, thereby reducing average drug prices. These lower prices will reduce out-of-pocket costs at the pharmacy, lower insurance premiums, and save federal health care dollars. The bill passed the House on Dec. 12, 2019.

21. United States-Mexico-Canada Agreement Implementation Act

	H.R. 5430 · December 19, 2019
Position	Good for working people
Outcome	Passed YEAs 385 NAYs 41
	The revised USMCA remedied numerous shortcomings contained in the original text. The end result is a vast improvement over both the original NAFTA and the agreement negotiated by President Trump last year. The agreement includes a first-of-its-kind facility-specific enforcement mechanism with rapid timelines and meaningful penalties against facilities for violating the rights of freedom of association and collective bargaining. The new USMCA also improves enforcement by eliminating the provision that would allow any party to block the formation of a dispute resolution panel when state-to-state conflicts arise; it severely limits Investor State Dispute Settlement (ISDS); it removes unreasonable barriers to trade complaints by making clear there is a presumption that labor violations are trade-related; it removes troubling language on violence against workers; and it bans trade in goods made with forced labor. Importantly, the revised USMCA also eliminates the giveaway to Big Pharma in the administration's initial proposal. The updated USMCA means trade in America will now be fairer because of our hard work and perseverance. The bill passed the House on Dec. 17, 2019, and was signed into law on Jan. 29, 2020.
